URGENT BULLETIN

CUTTING SEASONAL HOURS?

Unseasonable Working

At the request of members, UNISON have begun discussions with management within StreetScene about a potential change to the seasonal working patterns. We are aware that a lot of grounds maintenance staff are unhappy with the current structure, that long hours in the baking sun are causing detriment to your physical and mental health and that you are struggling to get your winter work completed in the shorter hours.

To facilitate this, and to get a complete picture, your UNISON convenors are planning on visiting your workplaces to discuss whether there is an appetite from the majority of members to change the hours and whether that would be to go onto a flat 37 hour week or re-adjust the seasonal working pattern to...

...better suit you, the workers on the tools, and the experts in your own jobs, and the service.

We will be visiting each depot soon to find out what YOU want us to do.
